

Art in the Park brings record crowd

by Michael Zensen

The last Sunday in September turned out to be bright and mild - a perfect day for Art in the Park 2018. Amid the flowers blooming from the glistening lily pond in Francis Park, our neighborhood saw a record turnout for this annual event. The day started with a brisk chill at 5:00 am as 50 of your friends and neighbors gathered to setup, organize, greet the artists upon arrival and ensure their safe passage through the park. The event kickoff was, as usual, at 10:00 am with the smooth sounds of Steve Bauer, as people strolled into the park from home, church and outside the neighborhood.

Sixty-two curated artists were there to greet parkgoers along with 20 sponsors and not-for-profit groups that provided games and activities for children. Veterans of the event might have noticed some new colorful banners drawing crowds to the Raffle booths at the north and south ends of the lily pond, the Children's Art Creation Station, the adult libation areas, and the Hospitality tent. The event was a full day of art, classic cars, old-time baseball, and live music. Families were able to linger to see the musical transition to the 9th Street Surfers and Fanfare while taking respite from the sun under the newly provided shade tents.

This was a the first Art in the Park without dear Rosemary, but the Lilly Pond was in glorious bloom thanks to Jody Freeman, Kitty Quinn, Dan Kelly, Nina Liebler, Diana Dougherty, Judith Doss, and Jane Wright. Who knows, Rosemary might have been so happy with her heirs' work, she may have pulled some harp strings with the man upstairs to make the weather so spectacular.

We thank all of you who attended and made purchases. This event is not possible without both our sponsors and neighborhood participation. Please visit our website, artintheparkstl.com, to see our sponsors and the list of your friends and neighbors who volunteered to create this event for the neighborhood. We will be soliciting additional volunteers at the turn of the new year so consider helping plan Art In the Park 2019.

Special thanks go to our board of directors and event planning group who work virtually all year planning the event: Michael Zensen, Janice Starbuck, Paul Jost, Elizabeth Brennan, Bobbi Ross, Steve Strobl, Tim O'Rourke, Joan Burnes, Kevin Liddy, and Nan Vordtriede. A special thanks to Diana Daugherty, David and Kim Leahy, Phil and Janet Mannhard, Kevin Liddy, Janice Starbuck, Steve Strobl, Tom Scheifler and Margie Uxa for dedicating their time leading up to the event and all day before, during and after the event.

Run For The Hills attracts hundreds

by Wayne Myrick

Thank you for continuing to support one of the best and oldest 5k runs in St Louis, our very own Run for the Hills. This year's Run was our 27th annual event that woke up our neighborhood with 500 walkers and runners, 100 volunteers, hundreds of neighborhood supporters, 26 sponsors, tons of frozen custard from Ted Drewes, brownies and sparkling raspberry lemonade from Edibles and Essentials, bagels from St Louis Bread Company, inflatables for the kids and loud early morning music that enlivened the neighborhood on another gorgeous Run for the Hills morning.

This year's event was especially memorable as we honored our dear friend, Rosemary Spitler, who was surely smiling down upon us. Rosemary was our volunteer coordinator since the first Run for the Hills and we missed her dearly this year. The Run shirts sweetly memorialize Rosemary on the right sleeve.

Through the years, the Run for the Hills has raised $500,000 for Francis Park! It was the first and only event which raised money for the park for many years before we welcomed additional fundraising events such as the St Louis Hills House Tour, Art in the Park, Grub and Groove and the 2018 debut of The Elevens Foot Golf Tournament. As residents of St Louis Hills, each of us should generously support these events who exist to make our park and our neighborhood more beautiful each year.

As this is the time of year we reflect on gratitude, we should all be thankful for our loyal $500 sponsors who are shown below- please support our neighborhood businesses! We are also grateful for our 100 plus volunteers. Thank you for waking up early on the third Saturday of each September with smiles and cheers for our runners!

We should all be thankful for our Run for the Hills committee- I've got to tell you that it is so much fun to work on a board or committee with such great, selfless people. We work really hard but we share a lot of laughs too! Cathy Myrick, Mike and GERALYN Banahan, Judy Murphy, Gerry Murphy, John Burghoff, Lynn Wolf, John Fuchs, Tom Gilmore, Matt Sallaberry, Phil Mannhard, Alex Curtin, Patrick McGinnis and Matt Helbig. A huge hug and thank you to Nancy Vordtriede who wins the Rosemary award for immediately stepping up to fill Rosemary's role as volunteer coordinator and we didn't miss a beat! If you love running or you love being part of a fun team, contact me and we would love to have your help next year.

If you would like to purchase this year's Run shirt for $10, please email Wayne Myrick at waymyrick3@yahoo.com and you can pick up your super cool and comfortable shirt from my front porch. 100% of the money raised goes directly to Francis Park.

Mark your calendars for next September 21 so you can have your running and walking shoes ready for the 2019 Run for the Hills!

Professional cyclists flock to Tour de Francis Park

by Gary Wells

Of all the events that occur throughout the year in our beloved neighborhood, the Gateway Cup – Tour de Francis Park bicycle races have special significance. This one event highlights our neighborhood for an international audience!

The Gateway Cup events are part of the USA Cycling Professional Road Tour. Cyclists who want to participate in larger, international races must first qualify in races like this. While the races around Francis Park are only one stage of a four-day event (the other races are in Lafayette Square, The Hill and Benton Park), it is our chance to host people from points far and wide. As usual, the St. Louis Hills Neighborhood made a favorable impression upon the regional coordinators. They were especially happy to see that emergency road work was completed along Nottingham in time for the races!

650 racers were registered across the multiple starting times, which were based on skill levels. The first race was actually a ride for charity. Then came junior races, races for kids and finally the professional races. Harriet Owen won the women's pro race with a time of 51:54 and Tyler Magner won the men's race with a time of 1:13:59. Men's and Women's winners were paid equal prizes. An additional prize was given out for good sportsmanship in each category.

At the end of the day we saw the inaugural Lime Bike Race. When the horn sounded, participants had to dash to the starting line, download an electronic lime bike key, choose one of the iconic two-wheelers, then race around the park. The race was for all ages – and at least one gorilla!

Residents all around the Park camped out on front lawns to watch the athletes whizz by. This stage of the Gateway Cup is the only one entirely contained within a residential neighborhood. What could be better than to be a resident of St. Louis Hills watching an event like this from your front yard? Well, being a member of the Neighborhood Association that makes such things possible would be cool, too!

The regional coordinator for the Gateway Cup is Big Shark

Bicycle Company.

We would like to give special acknowledgement to Peggy Stelzer. Peggy coordinated this event on our end for several years. She retired from the event and passed the baton on this summer, but we would not have been able to successfully host it without the groundwork which she laid. Also, the Holy Name Society and the ACTS core group of St. Gabriel cooked up hamburgers and brats for hungry visitors. John Burghoff and his accomplice provided invaluable services, as well. Thanks to all who helped!

40-car show accompanies Art in the Park

by Brad Artega

Another car show in the books! With help from Nick Zervos, Bob Rothenberg and the Naeger family insurance company, this car show has grown legs and taken off running. With 40 cars this year (the second most ever) and great weather, there was a lot of fun in the sun, good conversation and camaraderie with car loving people. This year's recipient of the Viewer's Choice Award was Tim Rice: His '55 Star Chief Pontiac won by 40 votes. Thank you for coming and supporting the car show. We look forward to next year!

Biennial House Tour helps promote St. Louis Hills

by Rick Palank

On Sunday, October 14, about one thousand people enjoyed touring eight St. Louis Hills homes, the St. Gabriel the Archangel rectory, and Ascension Lutheran Church.

The biennial Tour featured the homes of Emily & Ryan Bury (6200 Itaska), Lisa & Brian Eichelberger (4918 Tamm), Jess & Jeff Mann (6217 Delor), Amy & Mark Mechler (47 Willmore), Stacy & John Schicker (6490 Rhodes), Scott Vogel (6537 Murdoch), Karen & Steve Smart (87 Willmore), and Jessica & Brian Woolbright (6516 Eichelberger).

The House Tour Committee members are Nina Chastain, Kathy Fellin, Joan Sharkey, Carol Wilson, and Rick Palank. While the House Tour generates funds for the St. Louis Hills Neighborhood Association, the House Tour Committee's primary goal is to bring people who are not familiar with St. Louis Hills into our neighborhood, and see our beautiful homes and surroundings.

The House Tour Committee believes that the increase in awareness of St. Louis Hills results in an increase in the demand for homes, condos, and apartments. The affordability of our homes, the central location of St. Louis Hills, the many churches and schools, our beloved Francis and Willmore parks, and the impressive shopping and restaurant venues make St. Louis Hills a great place to live and raise a family.

David R. Francis statue dedicated in namesake park

by Rick Palank

On Sunday, October 7, over 200 people gathered just south of the Lily Pond in Francis Park for the dedication ceremony of the new David R. Francis statue. Those in attendance included Mayor Lyda Krewson, former Mayor Francis Slay, State Representative Donna Baringer, the statue sculptor Harry Weber, and 1904 World's Fair Society President, Michael Truax. The Master of Ceremonies was Tom Byrne, President of Friends of Francis Park.

Tom thanked all who were in attendance, including and especially the three great grandsons of David R. Francis. He also noted that over 240 individuals donated over $170,000, and that no money was received from any governmental entities or any corporations. The money raised was used for the statue along with the lighting, bricks and landscaping.

The David R. Francis Committee members were recognized for all of their work over the past four years, including Kathy Fellin, Janet Morton, Judy Murphy, Joni Ott, Tom Byrne, Steve Doss, Ron Goedeker, and Rick Palank.

Donations are still being sought for additional improvements to the area. A donation of $250 will result in an engraved brick placed at the base of the statue. For additional information, visit drfmemorial.org.

Remembering Mitch Hanneken

by Sean McCaffrey, Carol Wilson, Mike Banahan and GERALYN BANAHAN

The St. Louis Hills Neighborhood Association is saddened to report the passing of Jane Mitchellette-Hanneken, known to most simply as Mitch. She was 89.

Mitch had been a tireless volunteer for the St. Louis Hills Neighborhood Association for the last several decades. Whether it was our annual 5k run or the Christmas Tree Lighting, Mitch was there to lend a hand to the neighborhood she loved so dearly.

As a college student at Fontbonne, Mitch played basketball, volleyball and rode equestrian. Her riding skills earned her several championships at Fontbonne. She went on to receive her master's in physical education from the University of Colorado-Boulder. After graduation she became interested in tennis and became the first female board member of the Triple A Golf and Tennis Club, and the first female linesman in the United States.

In addition to her athletic skills, she focused on teaching and founded the St. Louis Hills Learning Center to serve children and adults with learning disabilities and behavioral disorders. She also founded Camp Happy Days, a summer program held at St. Gabriel's School. Mitch also served Fontbonne through her volunteer efforts and as a member of the Alumni Board.

Below are some memories that area residents shared about Mitch.

Carol Wilson:

Mitch Hanneken and I were friends for nearly 30 years, but our relationship started with an argument. I was president of SLHNA and had made arrangements for our general meeting at St. Gabriel's. For some reason that I have forgotten, Mitch decided she wanted the meeting at St. Raphael's, so she changed it without telling me. When I called her on it, she said we could put signs up at St. Gabe's directing people to St. Raphael's. I told her (actually, I think I yelled at her) that we were absolutely not going to do that, and I moved the meeting back to St. Gabe's. From that day on we were friends. Friendship with Mitch meant she would do anything she could for you while at the same time offering unsolicited and sometimes unwelcome fashion or lifestyle advice. In short, she was a mixed blessing who made me laugh at the same time she was exasperating me, and I loved her.

Mike and GERALYN BANAHAN:

This week our neighborhood lost another iconic figure, Jane "Mitch" Hanneken. There are a myriad of stories and opinions about Mitch, but there are some certain truths. By all accounts, Mitch could be abrupt and somewhat opinionated but ironically her intentions always seemed directed to protect the civility and tranquility of our neighborhood. She was a tireless volunteer, worker, and doer. Mitch helped at the Run, the church fish-fry, Old Newsboys Day and any neighborhood event. ■ Cont'd on page 8

Several years ago, my wife convinced me to attend a Camp Happy Days Award Ceremony; the camp where two of our daughters worked for many summers. Mitch was the Founder and Director of the program. We watched with amazement and admiration as parent after parent praised her for her patience, kindness and hard work. She provided these students with opportunity and attention and filled a void in their lives.

Although we won't necessarily miss seeing her rolling stop signs or watching her impromptu parking style, we will remember her dedication and love of her neighborhood, neighbors, and friends.

Many people knew Mitch as a neighborhood staple. We knew Mitch as an honorary family member. Mitch – we will miss your witty sense of humor, ability to laugh at your own shortcomings, and strict enforcement of dress codes. We will miss you, our friend.
